Since 1960, Blood Cancer UK has invested over £500 million in research, driving major breakthroughs in treatment. Survival rates for childhood leukaemia have improved dramatically, from 1 in 10 in 1960 to 9 in 10 today. In the early 2000s, only 41% of leukaemia patients survived five years, now, that figure stands at 52%, with even greater progress in lymphoma and myeloma. This charity continues to accelerate advancements in blood cancer treatment and care.

Leukaemia UK was formed in 2019 through the merging of two pioneering charities:

- The Elimination of Leukaemia Fund, founded in 1977 by Derek Mitchell after his wife's diagnosis with chronic myeloid leukaemia.
- Leuka, established in 1982 by Lester Cazin, a leukaemia patient at Hammersmith Hospital, to raise funds for research.

Together, they turned painful diagnoses into a force for change, funding world-class research and improving care pathways for those affected by leukaemia, proving that unity drives progress.

Leukaemia Care

Founded in 1967, Leukaemia Care began as a support system for parents of children with leukaemia. It expanded in the 1970s to include adult patients, driven by improvements in childhood leukaemia treatment. The charity was born from a conversation between two families, Mr. and Mrs. Norris and Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who met at the Royal Marsden Hospital and shared their experiences of isolation. Today, Leukaemia Care provides emotional, financial, and practical support to patients and families, ensuring no one faces leukaemia alone.

Every contribution, no matter how small, fuels monumental change. Therefore, it is essential that we use our potential to take meaningful steps towards that future. Even the smallest actions such as raising awareness, donating, or simply learning more, can make a difference.

Support resources

Leukaemia profoundly affects both those diagnosed and their loved ones. While the journey can be overwhelming, no-one has to face it alone as support is always available. Thankfully, there are numerous resources available to guide individuals through this journey, offering assistance, information, and a sense of community. Below are resources designed to provide guidance, assistance and comfort to those impacted.
