

FREE Online Twilight Session: Inclusive by Design: Strengthening Your Universal Offer

Practical strategies for inclusion, behaviour and SEND across KS2–KS5

How strong is your universal offer?

Join Amy Husband for a practical one-hour twilight exploring how inclusive teaching and effective behaviour approaches can strengthen support for every pupil. Drawing on the EEF's Inclusive Teaching guidance and Improving Behaviour in Schools resources, she will share practical strategies, top tips and examples to help you strengthen your universal offer and think about measurable impact.

A practical session for teachers, SENCOs, Inclusion Leads, Pastoral Leads and Heads of Year working across KS2–KS5.

Amy Husband is the Executive Headteacher for Academy21 with extensive senior leadership experience across diverse settings. She has led Inclusion and Safeguarding across a Multi-Academy Trust since 2019. Her specialisms include SEND, mental health, neuroscience and Initial Teacher Training. She is passionate about helping teachers develop practical, evidence-informed approaches to improve outcomes for pupils with SEND and SEMH.
